DEATHS.

On the 1st July, at his residence, Canton, Dr. Isaac

Davies, deeply regretted.

1890

On the 1st July, Mrs. Alice West, London, S.W., widow of Mr. William H. Lloyd, Esq., and daughter of the late General Vincent, aged 42.

A fatal accident befell a coolie in Macao's Gorda. We learn from a coolie who was carrying a box of dried fish, that he could not carry it on his shoulder, and the box fell, and fell a distance of ten feet, the box falling upon and killing him instantly.

We are requested to state that the Singapore Cricket Club is waiting for an answer to its challenge, which must be sent in a week's time, and that unless volunteers are forthcoming the Hongkong Club will have the unpleasant duty of declining a very hospitable invitation to go South.

Yesterday afternoon the house No. 12, Graham Street, standing on the remaining portion of Island Lot No. 173, was offered for sale by public auction by Mr. J. M. Armstrong, in the sum of £30,500, a very fair price in the present depressed condition of the real property market.

H. R. H. Bhansingh, accompanied by His Excellency the Acting Governor, yesterday morning visited Victoria Gaol, through which they were conducted by the Acting Superintendent of the Gaol, Mr. H. B. Parker. After leaving the Gaol, Mr. H. B. Parker, went at once to the Police Court, witnessing the trial of a man for larceny, and afterwards visited the Police barracks at the Central Station.

Weather permitting there will be a golf match over the Links this afternoon at four o'clock.

A telegram in the "Lancaster Gazette," dated London, 17th June, gives the following particulars of the illness and death of Mr. Colborne-Baber.—"Mr. Baber has been suffering from attacks of rheumatism for several weeks with fits of indigestion. He had no food for three days, and was unable to get up for two days, but on the 16th instant, he was found by his relatives. He had been shaking ever since, and unconscious for most of the time and died of sheer exhaustion. Mr. Werry, Political Officer, Bhansingh, was with him when he died."

Yesterday was to citizens of the United States the "Glorious Fourth," the one hundred and fourteenth anniversary of the Declaration of American Independence. There being no American man-of-war in port the celebration of the occasion was necessarily a quiet one, but the Chinese naval ratings roared with friends with all the gusto in the world, and the Chinese authorities on the anniversary were exchanged the following day. The American vessels in harbour were dressed up in honour of the day, but the display of bunting was cut short by the heavy squalls of rain and wind in the morning.

the QUEEN at Windsor, the first time this piece of etiquette had been observed by a Chinese Minister. It is all very well for a great civilised Power to make allowances for an antiquated Eastern Government, and to wink at shortcomings of the kind at first, while they are believed to be due to ignorance, but there is a limit to such courtesy, especially when it is all on one side. If the Chinese Government have not yet gained a knowledge of what is required by international courtesy, it is high time that they had become acquainted therewith, after fifteen years of diplomatic intercourse and the experience of such intelligent observers as Kwo and Tsoo, who must have considered it their duty to apprise their Government of all the usages of the "West."

Moreover it is time now that the question of audience at Peking should again be taken up and finally dealt with. The mandarins can no longer be allowed to play the childish and silly game of hiding the Emperor from the gaze of the outer barbarian. It is a mystery to most persons how the Treaty Powers have allowed themselves to be made a party to this contemptible farce, for so many years—a farce kept up with the special design of pointing the supposed immeasurable superiority of the occupant of the Dragon Throne to the monarchs ruling over the "outer barbarian" aforesaid. It is to be hoped that the Chinese will not yet have to make up their minds to take a stand, for the Chinese are said to be a little less than a match for us.

The Peking Gazette of the 24th ult. says—

"We are informed that our much inland Dutch, contrary to their expectations, came up a small number of a large one and one-half to two hours, and with very little load, without difficulty and with very little load. A small encounter was expected to take place on Saturday in the south of Edo, where the Chinese are said to hold strong fortifications, but particularly of the hills are not yet ready. It appears that the different regiments there are now to be held in reserve, and the Chinese are said to be a match for us."
